I am a certified basketball coach who started coaching over two decades ago working at public and private schools, professional clubs as well as summer and winter camps in various cities and countries.

As a coach I put big emphasis on creating an environment where players learn the values of respect, empathy, resilience, teamwork, and sportsmanship, which will also help them build their characters. I also believe that the more a coach praises his players the more he can demand from his players, always with mutual respect and treating all the members of the team with equal respect.

This year we are planning on setting up friendly matches against other schools, therefore our players will have the opportunity to compete, enjoy playing basketball and make new friendships all over Taiwan.

All players will have their playing time determined by their attendance to the team's practices and effort during them, as the objective of participating in these friendly games and competitions will not be winning at all costs but to learn to compete, do a healthy activity and make new friends within their team and with other schools' players.
